3. Content Research and Sourcing

3.1 Content Research

The selected organisation for the website project is Mpho's Bakery, a fictional small bakery based in Polokwane, Limpopo. Since the organisation is fictional, realistic original content will be created to represent the business. Research will also be conducted into bakery websites and common customer requirements to ensure that the proposed website is informative, professional and user-friendly.

The website will contain the following pages:

|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| Home       | Bakery introduction, main products, promotional message and call-to-action | Original content                                  |
| About Us   | History, mission, vision and business description                          | Original content                                  |
| Products   | Cakes, cupcakes, bread, biscuits and descriptions                          | Original content                                  |
| Gallery    | Images of cakes and bakery products                                        | Creative Commons/public-domain or original images |
| Contact Us | Phone number, email, location, business hours and enquiry form             | Original content                                  |
| Services   | Custom cakes, event orders and special orders                              | Original content                                  |

Content Sources

1. Organisation's Website

Mpho's Bakery is a fictional organisation and therefore does not currently have an existing website. Instead, realistic information will be created based on the proposed business profile.

2. Social Media

Social media content can be used to identify the types of information customers expect from a bakery, such as product photographs, promotions, operating hours and contact details. If the fictional bakery is given social media profiles, these will be used as additional sources for website content.

3. Public Domain and Creative Commons Resources

Images and icons will be sourced from reputable platforms that provide appropriately licensed resources. Any images used will be checked for licensing requirements and credited where required. Suitable sources may include Unsplash, Pexels and Wikimedia Commons.

4. Original Content

Original content will be developed for Mpho's Bakery, including product descriptions, the organisation's mission and vision, service descriptions and promotional messages. Creating original content will help ensure that the website is relevant to the fictional organisation and avoids unnecessarily copying content from other websites.

3.2 File Organisation

A separate project folder will be created to keep all website files organised.

```
Mphos-Bakery/
|
|— index.html
|— about.html
|— products.html
|— gallery.html
|— services.html
|— contact.html
|
|— css/
|   |— style.css
|
|— js/
|   |— script.js
|
|— images/
|   |— logo/
```

File Naming Convention

Files will use clear, consistent and descriptive names. For example:

- chocolate-cake.jpg
- vanilla-cupcakes.jpg
- bakery-logo.png
- about-us.txt
- product-list.txt
- contact-details.txt

Lowercase letters and hyphens will be used instead of spaces. This makes files easier to identify and reference when developing the website.
